

Flames Destroy Pharmacy, Damages Placed at $250,000

Roaring flames gutted The Pharmacy Sunday, spat fumes across the square and did an estimated $250,000 damage.

Faulty wiring was blamed for the fire. The Pharmacy, building and stock was destroyed. Owner Francis Shell said his loss approached the $65,000 mark. Mrs. N. E. Gass, Hereford, owner of the building, set the value of the razed structure at $18,000. The blaze was confinied to the drug firm.

Saved from the licking flames by heroic efforts of firemen and volunteers, Warren's department store was even then hardest hit of the establishments involved.

Bernard Warren said smoke did at least $100,000 damage to stock in the department store. Warren's had just received shipment of spring merchandise and the building was fairly bursting at the seams with fashion when the costly smoke boiled into the store.

Warren's is located immediately south of the Pharmacy. Immediately to the north, damage at Western Auto was confined to smoke damage. W. E. Parker, owner, early this week still could not estimate the extent of damage.

Smoke fogged upward into offices and apartments above Western Auto Store and the old bank building on the corner of Fifteenth Street and Fourth Avenue.

J. D. Barker said smoke damage was heavy but records are safe in the law office over Western Auto. He said valuable records are kept in a fire-proof safe. Other documents were in steel files and therefore protected.

Dr. E. J. Cundiff, dentist who offices over the old bank building, said his office probably will be closed for two weeks remodeling. He even is having all his instruments cleaned. Barker credited Bob Pearce with discovering the fire at about 9:25 o'clock Sunday morning. Pearce has a room at the rear of the upstairs portion of the building housing Western Auto Store.

Barker quoted Pearce as having said he heard a crackling noise and then saw smoke coming up from The Pharmacy. Barker had just picked up his mail at the Post Office and was about to visit his office when he saw Pearce running across the street toward the sheriff's department.

"Call the fire department," he yelled at Barker. By the time Barker was able to get to a phone he already could hear sirens signaling that trucks were on the way.

Heroes of the day were volunteer firemen and folks who just pitched in to help.

Volunteers, many of them routed out of Sunday School and in their go-to-meeting best fought fire for some two and a half hours.

"I knew we were in trouble when I rolled up," declared Charlie Foster, fire captain. Within minutes after arrival of the Canyon Volunteer Department it became apparent that more help would be needed. The Amarillo department was called a little after 10 o'clock. Amarillo sent two fire trucks and seven men.

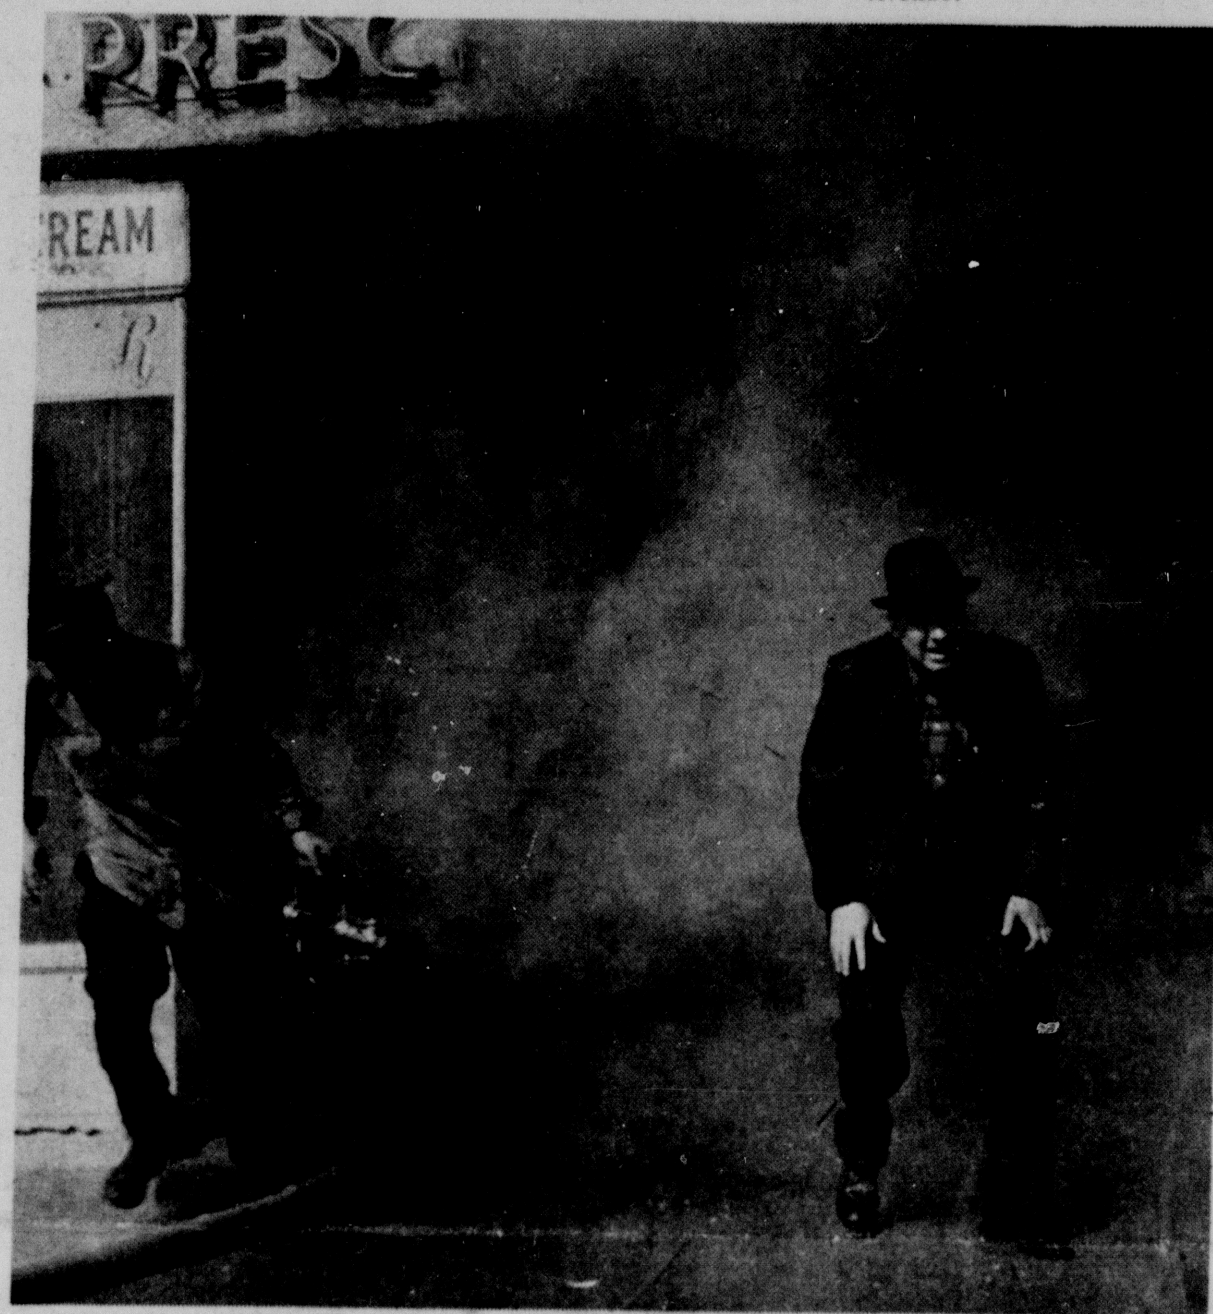

Canyon threw all of its equipment into the battle. "We usually keep a standby but not Sunday," declared Firechief

Bill Sternberg.

Firemen battled the blaze in an almost dead calm. "We can just be thankful it didn't happen Saturday in all that wind," said one fireman. "We'd have lost the whole darned block if it had."

Chief Sternberg said three factors were largely responsible for the firemen's ability to confine the fire to The Pharmacy.

Reporters Puzzled Over Birch Leaders' Attitude

John Birch Society leaders from Amarillo Tuesday night left newspaper reporters puzzled here by requesting that a Canyon meeting not be reported.

It was not a regular chapter meeting but was described as an orientation meeting preparatory to organizing a chapter here in Canyon.

The meeting was held in the Thornton Dewey home.

The request came from Dr. Edward McKay, Amarillo eye specialist, only minutes after he had read from a Chicago columnist taking newspapers in general to task for failure to do an adequate job of reporting.

Dr. McKay told his audience at the meeting that he was quoting from Willard Edwards, The Chicago Tribune's Washington representative. Edwards, according to Dr. McKay, accused the nation's working press of failure to fully report Richard Nixon's major campaign speeches and of labeling the Nixon campaign as a "me-too" farce.

Dr. McKay is Amarillo coordinator for the John Birch Society. Even while insisting that the meeting not be reported in full, Dr. McKay also insisted that the Society is not a secret organization.

Verbal exchange between Dr. McKay and representatives of Amarillo and Canyon papers was friendly but spirited as the coordinator sought to have his name and the name of Ralph Cooley, Amarillo Insurance-man, struck from the newspaper report on the meeting.

The press had been invited to cover the meeting. The invitation had been extended by Mrs. Thornton Dewey.

Cooley said he realizes that the John Birch Society is under fire. In a moving extemporaneous talk to the small gathering, Cooley told why he is a dedicated member of the Society.

"If trying to save our country from the Reds is wrong, then I'm just wrong," he declared. "I challenge anyone to be more sincere than Dr. McKay."

He referred to the Society's hassle with the National Council of Churches.

"We're not attacking religion, we're trying to save it," he declared with emotion. "If that makes us rabble rousers, then we're wrong," expounded Cooley, himself a member of Amarillo First Christian Church which is a member of the National Council of Churches.

"I know that I'm going to stand on my convictions and if the John Birch Society does nothing but alert the American people then it has served a good purpose," he went on.

He said the Society has been subjected to a smear campaign which has served only to solidify John Birch people everywhere.

The John Birch Society is dedicated to preserving American freedom and is not affiliated with any religious group or political party, Cooley asserted.

"We are in the last war of civilization," Cooley declared, "and it is to the finish."

Cooley and Dr. McKay showed two films. One was "Operation Abolition," a film on subversive activity on the West Coast and Red attacks on the House Un-American Activities Committee in San Francisco. The other, "My Latvia," was a film on the Russian take-over of the Baltic states of Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia.

MEN WORKED over 15 minutes after fire trucks arrived at the scene, to remove the body of Bobby Allen from his duster plane which crashed near Pullman Switch Monday. Allen's plane went down on the Floyd Thomas farm. The Randall County fire truck can be seen to the left behind the wreckage.

CROP DUSTER DIES MONDAY IN WRECK NEAR PULLMAN

"I thought he was in trouble. He went too far for his pass." This is the way an Amarillo Air Force Base pilot described the crash of a crop duster, Bobby Clayton Allen, approximately 10 miles south of Pullman Switch in Randall County Monday afternoon.

Allen's piper sprayer went down on the Floyd Thomas farm at about 3:15 p.m. Allen, a 24-year-old West Texas State College student, was spraying for the Rudolph Campbell Spraying Service of Claude.

One man present at the crash site said a wing touched the ground and the plane nosed over. Allen was apparently trying to turn at the time of the crash.

Randall sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen sped to the scene upon hearing of the crash but waited until Canyon fire units arrived before attempting to remove the body from the wreckage.

Firemen sprayed the area around the plane and stood by with carbon dioxide extinguishers while workers moved the plane to an upright position. Gasoline poured from the tanks when the plane was moved. It took approximately 15 minutes for workers to cut through to the body.

The fuselage of the aircraft was twisted almost in half, and the motor slammed into the cockpit, crushing Allen's head and chest. He apparently died instantly.

The plane he had been flying had been purchased Sunday in Lubbock. Campbell said the plane, which was a year old, had been completely reconditioned.

A native of Adrian, Allen received his pilot's license about a year ago. He was a 1955 graduate of Adrian High School. He was born November 28, 1935.

Survivors include his wife, Bobbie Sue, a son, Craig Dan-

Annelle Dugan Named Editor of Sunray Paper

Annelle Dugan will assume duties of editor and advertising manager of the Sunray News at Sunray Monday, April 17.

She is the former society editor of the Canyon News. Miss Dugan began working for the News in 1957 and became society editor in August, 1960.

While engaged in undergraduate work at West Texas State College she served as editor of the Prairie, semi-weekly publication of the school. She was named to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities during her senior year.

She is presently completing work toward a master's degree in history at WT.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clem Dugan who reside east of Canyon.

Randall commissioners renewed arguments on tax equalization in the county during a Monday afternoon session of the court.

Bill Money, county tax assessor-collector, presented a preliminary report on an equalization program on which his office has been working. According to his figures taxes would increase approximately $50 per section of rural land.

Earlier in the year two commissioners from Amarillo, C. Y. Johnson and B. R. Jones, pointed out an inequity in city and rural taxes and said some form of equalization would have to be enacted.

County officials first discussed the possibility of hiring an appraiser but later decided to let Money do the job.

His Monday figures set land values from $50 per acre to $175 per acre. Some land on the 1960 tax roll was valued at $6 per acre.

Improvements on rural property took a jump also, according to Money's figures. Instead of automatically taking half of the actual value on improvements as in the past, Money set values at replacement cost.

Instead of taking 20 per cent of real property values and 25 per cent of personal property values for tax purposes Money set a 16 per cent levy across the board.

Clarence Beckman, precinct 2 commissioner, questioned Money's values by asking if improvements would bring the price set by him. "I always thought you figured by what something sells for," he said.

"We were stopped on that before," B. R. Jones, precinct 1 commissioner, quickly countered. "It seems that some of the land is bringing a very high figure and you didn't want to use that for tax purposes."

Money explained that he was having to use replacement figures on improvements and utilities while there is no such figure available for land.

"We just have to use sales price on land," he said.

Jones asked about farm machinery and Money said it is taxed as long as it is being used.

"Machinery will not depreciate off the tax roll," he pointed out.

Money requested commissioners help in arriving at valuations and asked for instructions on the percentage of total value to be used.

No decision was reached at the meeting.

In the morning session taxes and tax sources was the main topic. George Grogan of Amarillo questioned distribution of Randall taxes and attacked the

Officials to Explain Feed Grain Program

Randall County farmers will be given the details on the feed grain program Monday night, April 17, according to Doyle Thomas, ASC office manager.

This information meeting will be held in the auditorium at the Canyon High School beginning at 8 p.m.

John Brazzil, Randall County Agent, and Thomas, together with ASC committeemen, will give the program details.

FROM THE

CANYON RIM

By Troy Martin

Catfishing time is just around the corner. There's no one for a boy like fishing, at least that's how we remember it.

We never think about fishing without thinking about a very great lady who taught us the art of catfishing. We can conjure up a picture of an old ground tank on a West Texas farm site in Hall County and grandma who was indeed a fishing enthusiast. That tank was just working alive with catfish. We remember very well the first fish we ever caught.

The whole family, plus some relatives from a distance, were visiting the old homestead one day. Grandma couldn't go fishing. We remembered every detail of what she had told us about baiting the hook and keeping quiet so as not to scare the fish away.

Armed with this knowledge and a cane pole sneaked surreptitiously from the smokehouse, a happy but somewhat breathless five-year-old made straight for the tank, a happenstance which would have raised the hair of our parents had they known what was taking place.

With some difficulty we attached a wiggly worm to the hook, splashed it in and waited. The wait wasn't long. There was a tug on the line as the bobber made for the center of the tank.

Under went the bobber and up we jerked, landing a fine pan-sized fellow on the grassy bank. We didn't stop to disengage the fish. Home we went with Mr. Catfish jouncing and bouncing on the end of the line.

There was no scolding as we might have expected. Instead, there was a golden brown catfish prepared by the finest fisherman and the finest cook in all creation. Nodding and dining on better than Grandma's catfish cooked in corn meal and cold butter milk drawn from the well.

We were still young when Grandma left us and when snow flies and the nights are cold the memory of her is as dim as a picture from a TV station far across a mountain range. But when the sun shines warm and we start cleaning our fishing gear, some celestial being touches the fine tuning dial of our heart and the image of that wonderful face becomes razor sharp again.

Every small boy deserves at least one grandma who loves to fish, knows how to cook and has cold butter milk in the well.

Our orchard of the week goes to Clark Jarnagin. Clark is just about as jolly a fellow as you will ever meet. He's had his share of bruises but you never hear him bawling.

Clark has worked on almost every civic undertaking begun in Canyon since we've been here. He doesn't use his civic work as an excuse for not doing a good job in the insurance profession by which he earns a living. He was Southland's yearling of the year last year.

He's devoted to his family. You should see the sparkle in the eyes of the Jarnagin twins when they look at their dad. He spends a lot of time with his youngsters--four of them--at horseback riding and at other things they like to do together.

Clark loves kids--all kids. He gives more advice to young folks than the average lawyer. He speaks out with conviction for what he believes.

Last Sunday morning when the fire broke out in downtown Canyon Clark was at church, where he is most Sunday mornings. When the alarm sounded, Clark went to the fire and fought it right through until the all-clear.

To Clark Jarnagin we are sending the Canyon Rim's Orchid of the Week.

Mary Rad McKay of Canyon married Carl Wooten of San Marcos. She's now living in San Marcos but she won't forget her home town. She lives on CANYON STREET.

The W. T. Reynolds' are folks who like Canyon. Originally from Oklahoma, they moved to Canyon for reasons of health and intended to stay only a year. They've been here 15 and Mrs. Reynolds says they wouldn't think of living anywhere else.

Mrs. H. W. Burrus always starts gardening early. She recently cut some asparagus while the snow was falling. Mrs. Burrus says her rhubarb will be ready soon.

She was surprised when we told her we'd never seen any rhubarb except the kind raised by some onrly folks when they don't like something or just want to be cussed.

The girl on our street says some newspaper people are more interested in getting it wrote than in getting it right.

What do you know? We've written a whole column without a word about politics.

Flames Destroy

Pharmacy

He gave credit to the new deluge nozzle set being used by the department, the new fire truck bought for the department last fall and the abundant water supply.

"A few years back we've have run out of water," the chief declared. "One of those Amarillo trucks pulled a vacuum on a line anyway."

Bill York, city manager, reported that 311,000 gallons of water was used in quelling the fire.

Chief Sternberg said the deluge set, a type of nozzle, threw a wall of water.

"We really appreciate the cooperation we got," the chief continued. "A lot of people got in the way but a lot of people sure did help. I never saw a bunch of guys as bushed as they were. Bill York worked like a dog."

Three ceilings at the rear of the pharmacy made it difficult for firemen to reach the blaze with water.

At least two men were momentarily overcome by fumes from the fire. One of those was City Manager Bill York. He was on the roof of Warren's helping firemen spray the flames lapping at the drug firm below. He got a whiff of smoke that sent him reeling.

Firemen believe York may have inhaled fumes from burning sulphur. A puff of greenish yellow smoke had boiled up just before he was stricken.

No serious injuries were reported. Several townspeople brewed coffee and brought it to the scene. Canyon cafes supplied sandwiches and Bruce Blackaby set up a coffee bar at the Ford house and sandwich stand dishing out free eats and drinks to firemen throughout the afternoon.

Bellah's and possibly others served coffee and food during

So The People May Know

(An Editorial)

We want to go on record emphatically as applauding many of the goals of the John Birch Society.

However, some of the weaknesses in leadership of the organization became glaringly obvious here Tuesday night as John Birch leaders met with a group in Canyon.

We do not question the sincerity of the two men who came to the meeting from Amarillo. They are, no doubt, dedicated Americans of whom you and I ought to be proud. The men to whom we refer are Dr. Edward McKay and Ralph Cooley.

Dr. McKay spent some time reading excerpts from a Chicago Tribune columnist castigating American newspapermen for not more fully reporting the Nixon campaign speeches last fall. Then Dr. McKay did his best to lay road blocks in the path of reporters trying to cover his talk. This in spite of the fact that reporters had been invited to the meeting for the sole purpose of reporting it in the press.

Dr. McKay second-hand attack on the press was not properly documented. If it were, then the doctor did not reveal those documentations.

His only source was Willard Edwards of the Chicago Tribune.

The Tribune has been known for not letting the facts get in the way of a good story. We refer specifically to the 1948 election when the diehard Tribune announced in screaming headlines that Dewey had been elected President.

If Mr. Edwards is going to be used as a source of such a serious charge, then those who use him as such should find out where HE got his material. Dr. McKay quoted Edwards as charging that the working press of America labelled Nixon's the emergency--all free for the drenched, hungry and cold men fighting the fire.

"We just want to thank everybody, including the Amarillo Fire Department who helped us," declared Captain Foster.

Sternberg commended law enforcement officers. Police and sheriff's men threw a cordon around the area in an effort to keep people out of danger.

Water under extreme pressure was applied from the sidewalk to the interior of the drug store. The resulting backwash brought out vials of medical supplies by the score.

Many of these were picked up by spectators. Shell said that even harmless drugs when subjected to heat might become extremely toxic.

Labels may have been washed off some bottles and there is a possibility that some of the bottles carried away from the scene may contain poisonous drugs.

Shell appealed to those who may have taken vials from the scene to dispose of them in a safe manner and by all means not to use them.

Shell said he was about to leave for Plainview where his dog was entered in a dog show when he was notified that his pharmacy was on fire.

Weston Moore, employee of the drug firm, said he was in the Pharmacy and noticed nothing amiss a few minutes before Pearce turned in the alarm.

Officers notified the State Board of Insurance as soon as the fire was under control. Normally, the board would send an inspector to determine the cause of the fire.

City officers guarded the Pharmacy day and night until Tuesday when disgruntled authorities here, tired of waiting contacted the board again and received authority to enter the building.

First to enter the building Tuesday were Chief Sternberg, Deputy Sheriff Calvin Costley, Police Chief L. D. Caldwell and City Fire Marshal Jack Jennings.

Sternberg reported a consensus that the fire was caused by electrical wiring at the rear portion of the building in the vicinity of the hot water heater. He said the gas water heater had no part in causing the blaze.

Most of The Pharmacy's records, including prescriptions, were recovered intact by the inspecting crew. Shell said his prescription business will be handled by Canyon Drug at present.

W. C. Stallings, Amarillo-Potter-Randall City-County

campaign as "me-too" farce. Some of Nixon's most ardent supporters have bitterly concurred in the "me-too" label.

We realize that the press, just as almost all walks of life have been infiltrated by pinkos, fellow travelers and Reds. However, we attend press conventions on a state and national level and we know from first-hand information, doctor, that in the breast of America's composite newspaperman beats a staunch conservative heart dedicated to the freedom of this country.

There appears to be an assumption on the part of John Birch leaders that the Society is the only organized group in existence fighting Communism. Gentlemen, The American Legion has been in the forefront of the battle against the Reds for at least 20 years. The fearless editors of the American Legion Magazine have been naming names and giving dates and places on the Communies until the name of American Legion is almost a curse word to the Reds.

The John Birch Society is serving a definite purpose and we hope our comments will be taken as constructive criticism rather than as an attempt to destroy the Society.

The Society has begun to HURT the Communist conspiracy and for that reason, if for nothing else, the Reds will leave no stone unturned to smear John Birchers. Let's look at the facts. The campaign against the John Birch Society has not been on a local level. It has been national in scope and a guess that the campaign has been manipulated from Moscow would be a good one.

The John Birch Society is one that should not be destroyed but revamped into a usable vehicle in civilization's last battle for survival.

Health Unit officer, and Calvin Warner, Food and Drug Administration representative from Dallas, were second into The Pharmacy Building.

Narcotics were taken from the building and placed under lock and key at Randall County Sheriff's Department. They will be destroyed.

The Pharmacy accounts receivable are at Blackwell Insurance Company were payments on account will be accepted. Shell said early settlement of accounts receivable would greatly facilitate his straightening out the business of the burned out firm.

Mrs. Gass, owner of The Pharmacy building, said she plans to rebuild as soon as possible. Shell said a new Pharmacy will rise above the ashes of the old Pharmacy within the next few weeks.

Pat Ricketts' jewelry business, formerly housed with The Pharmacy, will open soon in the Old First National Bank building.

Judge Wayland Angel said it would be impossible until plans are formulated on the Washington Street overpass.

Band Royalty Named At Annual Banquet

Nancy Cleavinger and Henry Meyer were named queen and king of Canyon High School Band at the annual banquet March 30.

An Easter theme dominated the decorations, and entertainment was provided by Donald Haddad, WT music instructor and his musicians. They were Harlan Lamkin, alto saxophone; Joe Parker, string bass; Bob Finnicum, drums; and Haddad, piano.

Master of ceremonies was last year's king, Philip Waters. Dancing in the commons followed. About 90 students and guests were present.

Sponsoring the banquet was the Band Parents Club. They will also sponsor the John Phillips Sousa award to the outstanding senior student. This will be presented at the final concert, May 18, after selection by the band directors and administration.

Following the banquet in the high school cafeteria, coronation ceremonies took place in the auditorium. Forming the royal court were other candidates for the titles, Jo Hubbard, Janie Jarrett, Lawrence Lewis and Ronald Osborn.

The concert will be a joint nurse in 1962 after many years of postponement.

Mrs. Mann had planned on being a nurse before she met and married the Rev. Mann at Hardin Simmons University. Although she intended to continue her studies, Mrs. Mann had a family to rear.

A family was not the hardest obstacle she had to face. Mrs. Mann suffered from a serious heart disease. She started back to school at Texas Western in El Paso while the Rev. Mann was overseas in 1951, but had to quit because of her illness.

In 1955 heart surgery cured Mrs. Mann and the next year she and her daughter received their high school diplomas together. Her daughter is presently a registered nurse in the nurse's corps of the United States Air Force.

The professional school she is attending in Amarillo is operating under a new two-year program. A year of academic credits is required for entry. Subject matter includes nine hours of biology and physiology, six hours of English, three hours in sociology, three hours in psychology, three hours in home economics, and eight hours in chemistry. Mrs. Mann completed these requirements at West Texas State College.

Though there is a shortage of help, Mrs. Mann does not find her work tiring because everyday is a new adventure and the work is stimulating in many other ways.

Nurses are trained for more physical needs, according to Mrs. Mann. The new program is introducing patient teaching which includes mental and spiritual aspects as well as the physical. It has been found that often the mental attitude of patients can make a big difference in his recovery. She went on to say that fear and uneasiness can largely be prevented when the patient is taught what is expected of him and what the doctors are going to do.

"My husband is a minister and there is always a need for medical attention in our field," said Mrs. Mann.

For several years she had served as a camp nurse and finally decided that she should do it right. The improvisation of ready articles for equipment in camps is one of the main problems. Once she had to use a gallon water bottle from the kitchen for a hot water bottle.

Although she does not plan to work full time after being graduated from nursing school, Mrs. Mann feels that there will always be a place for her training in summer camps and other areas where her husbands work may take them.

AAUP Prexy To Boston

Dr. George de Schweinitz, professor of English at WT, will fly to Boston next week for the annual convention of American Association of University Professors.

Dr. de Schweinitz is president of the WT chapter of AAUP, which is ending its fourth year of existence on this campus. Convention will be held April 21 and 22.

Topics to be discussed, to name a few, will be "The Degree of Faculty Participation in College and University Government," "Accrediting of Colleges and Universities," "Relationships of Higher Education to Federal and State Government" and other subjects concerning the economic status of the profession and research and publication.

Lloyd Rauh, above, was a six-year-old winner of the Easter color contest sponsored by various Canyon firms.

Junior High Band Rates 2nd, 3rd

Canyon Junior High School band participated in regional band contests Tuesday at WT.

The 85-piece group received a third division in concert playing, and second division in sight-reading. Eight other bands in Class C also played, as well as ten groups in Class CC.

Judging concert were Dr. Ronald Gregory, University of Indiana; Florian Thompson, Eastern New Mexico University; and Maurice McAdoo, North Texas State College. R. C. Davidson, Plainview High School, judged the sight-reading competition.

CHS Wins Ten Events

Canyon High School winners in the Interscholastic League district meet held here Saturday have been announced.

Regional play-offs in most events will be held in Lubbock April 21 and 22.

The CHS one-act play, "Wait For the Morning Child," placed second in area contest Monday night in Plainview.

Saturday winners are as follows:

GIRLS' DEBATE, Virginia Crouse and Pat Haley.

DECLAMATION, Lynne Larson.

POETRY READING, Wam Moore and Judi Roberts.

EXTemporaneous SPEAKING, Bob Haggard and Sally White.

READY WRITING, Lynda Kay Redman, second, and Bill Phillips, alternate.

TYPEWRITING, Sue Huyck, second.

SHORTHAND, Marita Gill.

TENNIS, Boys' singles, Clark deSchweinitz; girls' doubles, Nancy Purcell and Jacquita Barnard.

GOLF, boy's singles, Robert Childers.

Mrs. Emoree Thompson, Amarillo, sister-in-law of Jack Thompson of Canyon, was to undergo open heart surgery early this week.

The delicate operation was to be performed in Houston.

City Fire Captain Says More Equipment Needed

City commissioners instructed Charlie Foster, fire captain, and Bill York, city manager, to prepare a list of fire equipment needed and the cost in a Monday night meeting.

Foster said Sunday's fire showed a great need for more slickers, boots and hats. He also pointed out the need of an attic nozzle.

"We can have one made for about $20," he said in regard to the attic nozzle.

An attic nozzle is made of tempered steel and can be driven through walls in order to reach confined blazes.

The boots, slickers and hats will be used to supplement the present supply. Foster said there are about only 12 of each.

Mayor John Taylor instructed Foster and York to present the list at the next meeting.

In other action, ballots from the recent city election were canvassed.

Dr. J. Manly Bryan was appointed city health officer, succeeding Dr. R. P. Jarrett. Dr. Jarrett is county health officer and a recent attorney general ruling states that a doctor cannot hold both offices.

Commissioners discussed water sewer extension agreements in relation to housing development but no decision was reached. The present agreement, along with those enacted by neighboring cities, was discussed. Commissioners instructed York to present a study of similar agreements made in cities throughout the state at the next meeting.

No action was taken on filling a policeman's spot vacated last week by Rex Loftis. The commission talked about the possibility of hiring a part time policeman but made no final decision.

Two radio units will be tested in city water department vehicles in the near future. Commissioners are considering placing radios in most of the vehicles but want to make this test before purchasing them.

More estimates are needed in regard to a cooling system for the city office, they decided. Only one estimate has been submitted so far and commissioners said they would like at least three.

In final action the commission ordered the purchase of a sludge pump for the city sewage treatment system. This pump is being added to improve the system and prevent any possible pollution.

Canyon Men Serving Duty Tour

Three Canyon men are presently on six months active duty with the army as part of the special training they are to receive as members of the Texas National Guard's 36th Infantry Division.

They are Larry J. Elam, Harold R. Shillings and Roy E. Clark. All are members of the Canyon guard unit.

Presently receiving eight weeks basic training at Fort Ord, California, they will attend a military school for advanced work later during their tour of duty.

Frat Head Guest Speaker At Band Dinner

Speaker for the annual banquet of the West Texas State College Concert Band Wednesday was A. Frank Martin, one of the founders of Kappa Kappa Psi, national band fraternity for men.

The banquet was held at 7 p.m. in the "East-West Room" of the Crossroads Motel in Amarillo. Scheduled for the program were presentation of the WT Band Sweetheart and awards to individual band members.

Martin, executive secretary for both Kappa Kappa Psi, and Tau Beta Sigma, national band fraternity for women, holds B.S. and M.S. degrees from Oklahoma State University. He was student personnel officer at OSU for 25 years.

One of the ten founders of the men's fraternity, Martin became national executive secretary and editor of the fraternity's national magazine, "The Podium," in 1955.

The Canyon Eagles came away with eighth place honors out of a field of over 20 teams at the Sandy Relays in Amarillo over the weekend.

Chairman of the observance is Mrs. W. A. Miller. This is one of the four nation-wide programs scheduled annually by the council. Three Canyon churches participate in the group: First Christian, Presbyterian and First Methodist.

Contributions received at the meeting are used in sponsoring the Senior Citizens of Canyon.

ART ODDITY FOR THE WEEK Hollywood (UPI). . . The 300 artists who worked on Walt Disney's "One Hundred and One Dalmatians" used 1,218,750 pencils on the project.

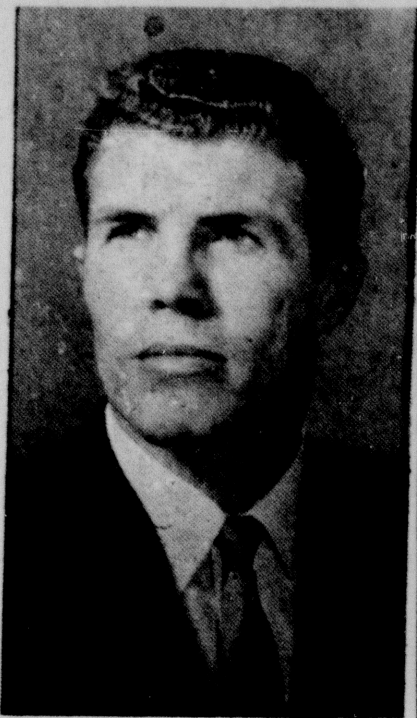

Studio officials estimate that was enough pencils to supply the New York Stock Exchange for a year or to design all the cities of the world.

From the Lexington (KY.) Herald comes this tidbit!

"Welcome Death!!" Art Dealer Samuel Schwartz says that bomb shelters should be painted inside with murals, abstract or representational, to relieve the strain of occupants who otherwise would just have to look at one another.

Too, some of the modern Paintings might make it easier for a victim to walk out and take his chances with an over-supply of radiation rather than stay inside and have to look at the painted walls. !!!!!!!!!

We had hoped to be able to give farmers all of the details on the Feed Grain Program by this past Monday. However, two items have not been worked out and consequently have delayed our announcing complete details of the program. These items are the county yield and the county acreage. A tentative yield has been received but is not final.

A farmer may participate in the program by reducing the base acreage by at least 20 per cent. If he does participate in the program then he will be eligible to place his normal yield for the farm under price support at approximately $1.90 per hundred. In addition he will be paid 50% of his normal production for leaving the acreage out.

A farmer may place more than 20% of his base acreage in the program and draw a 60% payment of his normal yield. If his base acreage is 100 acres or more the maximum amount he can place in the program is 40%. If his base acreage is less than 100 acres then he can place 20 acres plus 20% of the base in the program. A farmer with a 25 acre base may place all of the acreage in the program. A farmer with a fifty acre base may place 30.0 acres in the program.

The acreage taken out of production may be summer-fallowed and planted back to wheat this fall. It can be grazed prior to December 31.

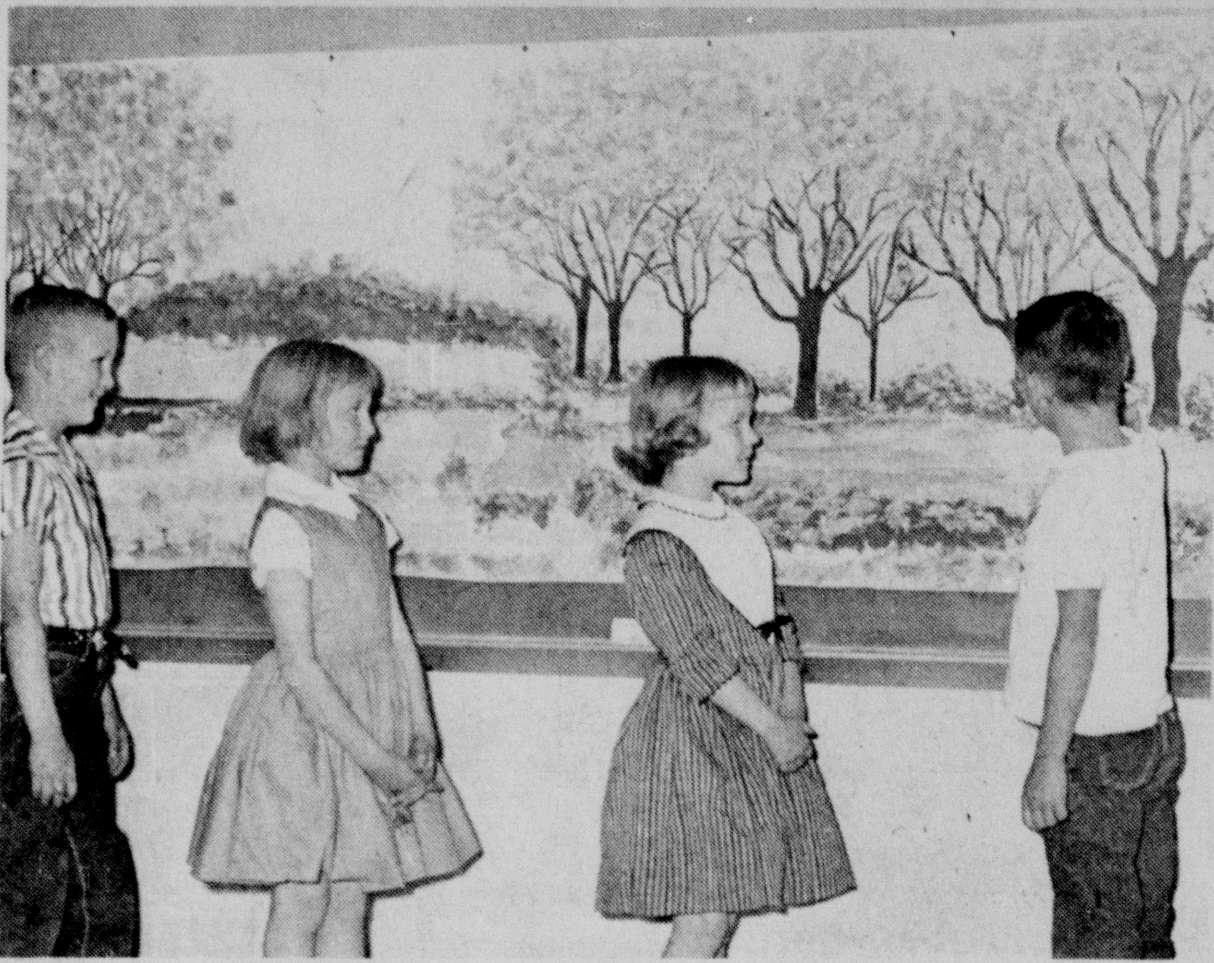

Cross compliance will be in effect on this program. A tenant to qualify for price support must not exceed his base acreage on any farm he has. The same holds true for a landlord. The division of payments between a landlord and tenant will be the same as the crop is divided.

One provision of the program requires that the grain sorghum or corn base on a farm must not be exceeded in order for oats, barley, and rye to be eligible for price support.

We realize that farmers want to know just what their base acreage and yield is before making up their mind. Committees have been working on farm indexes and will set the final base acres on each farm just as soon as the county acreage is received. We think we will be able to tell any farmer his base and yield within 3 days after receipt of this acreage. We are expecting notification of the acreage any time.

A county wide meeting will be held next Monday April 17 at 8 p.m. in the new High School Auditorium in Canyon. All farmers are urged to attend.

Art Used as Teaching Aid

VISIT MOTHER

Guests in the home of Mrs. A. M. Seaton, 201 26th St., Sunday were her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marsh, Dalhart.

Cast Named for May 'Guys, Dolls' Show

Lead roles for "Guys and Dolls," musical comedy scheduled for production in May by West Texas State College's Musical and Opera Workshop, have been assigned by Royal Brantley, director.

The show, known as the "music fable of Broadway," is based on stories and characters created by Damon Runyon. It was composed by Frank Loesser and written by Abe Burrows. It will be presented six nights, opening May 4, and continuing through May 6, with last three performances slated May 11-13.

Brantley feels that selection of "Guys and Dolls" will be an excellent choice to follow the highly successful production of "The King and I" which played to sell-out crowds last spring. The show contains high comedy and popular music and lyrics.

Assisting Brantley, who will be music director and producer, will be William A. Moore as production director; Mrs. William A. Moore as acting coach; and Robert L. Antrim as technical director. Gene Galle, director of the Amarillo Civic Ballet, will be choreographer.

The cast includes Christine McFarlin of Dumas as Sarah Brown; Bob Finnium of Plainview as Nathan Detroit; Jenny L. Massad of Spearman as Miss Adelaide; Henry Hardaway of Claude as Sky Masters; Frank Frisbie of Amarillo as Nicely-Nicely Johnson.

Louis Strovos of Borger as Benny Southstreet; Bobby Miller of Dawn as Rusty Charlie; Jerry Ballew of Perryton as Arvid; Abernathy; Harry Gilstrap of Amarillo as Harry the Horse; Gary Wyatt of Dimmitt as Lt. Brannigan; Judy Neslage of Pampa as General Matilda Cartwright; and John Robert Wheelock of Canyon as Big Jule.

The 20-year-old soldier attended Canyon High School.

WORK HAS STARTED on a spring mural for the second grade. In the photo are Becky Wesley and Leon Bichsel.

"MAD HATTER" JWBC GUEST

A parade of hats will highlight the meeting Friday of Junior Woman's Book Club.

Ross Bell, department store milliner, will present a prize for the most clever hat modeled. Members are to create hats from unlikely materials for the parade.

Mrs. James Murphy White will introduce the guests. Also appearing before the club will be Bill Wilson, who will talk concerning the proposed pavilion for Randall County Junior Livestock Association.

Art is playing an important part in the education of second graders at Canyon Elementary school.

Mrs. E. E. Perkins and Mrs. C. T. McBride have used murals of fall and winter scenes as a teaching instrument in science, art and language.

Murals were prepared in the classroom over a period of weeks by the teachers with the assistance of the students.

"They have proved to be a helpful aid in the teaching of science," pointed out Mrs. McBride. She teaches science in all four grades at the elementary school.

"In the first two grades we try to stress environmental aspects," she said. "The pupils are more interested in weather changes and what happens during these changes."

"The fall mural helped illustrate the effect of cold weather on plant life."

She said that they did not do a mural for winter weather but outside conditions were useful in teaching.

For spring, blooming trees and flowers are being used in a mural as an aid for understanding the season.

"We should have it completed in about a month," Mrs. McBride concluded.

For summer? Well, what student ever needed the understand that particular season!

Family enjoys convenient living, more privacy with extension phones

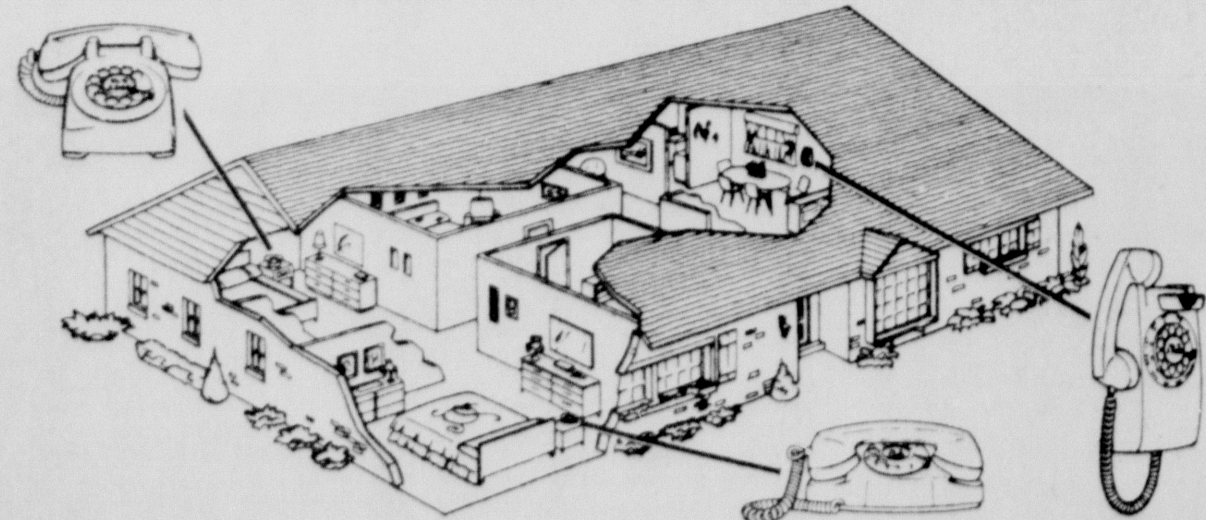

By DON DAVIS, Telephone News Writer

"A phone in our bedroom is really convenient, because it's nice and quiet there, and I have complete privacy," says Jay Brandstetter, who spends a lot of time arranging club, civic activities by phone.

"My wall phone," says Mrs. Brandstetter, "is the handiest thing when I'm working in the kitchen. Bonnie Jay likes it, too, because it is low enough for her to reach easily."

Like many families nowadays, Jay and Lucille Brandstetter and their two daughters, Sharon and Bonnie Jay, are really on the go.

No doubt that's why they're quick to take advantage of today's modern conveniences—such as colorful extension telephones—that help them get more things done. The Brandstetters, for instance, have three phones in their seven-room house.

"I just don't see how we'd manage without extension phones," Mrs. Brandstetter says.

Why don't you enjoy the timesaving convenience, the privacy and the security of extension telephones? Just call the telephone business office or ask any telephone serviceman. Cost is low.

READ

The purpose of National Library Week, a citizens' movement, is to encourage life-time reading habits and the use and support of libraries of all kinds by everyone. The goal is "a better-read, better-informed America." The Week is not an end in itself. It is a focal point of a long-range, year round effort through continuing activities of many groups in more than 5,000 communities.

Today as never before, limited horizons endanger free people. We can no longer afford indifference toward the quality and quantity of our resources for education and information. Learning has risen in the national scale of values. Reading and libraries have assumed a new importance.

Research by F. J. Crider shows that if 90 percent of the foliage is removed from a plant during its rapid growth period, all of the roots stop growing for 17 days. A removal of 70 percent of the tops during the same period resulted in root growth stoppage of only 70 percent for five days and a 50 percent removal or less had little or no effect on root growth. Close grazing is not the only factor affecting root growth. August Jantil and P. J. Kramer in their research on plant-soil moisture relations found that ungrazed plants have a physical force for extracting moisture from the soil that is equivalent to 200 pounds atmospheric pressure per square inch. The force is reduced 87 percent when the tops are grazed off. Its not hard to see why then that ungrazed or properly grazed range recovers quicker and plants continue to live and make some growth even when moisture is limited during dry periods. Heavily grazed ranges can not compete because the plants are forced into dormancy because they are robbed of their physical force to absorb enough moisture from the soil for growth.

Growth points are another factor influencing growth under grazing. Points two or more inches from the ground are likely to be removed with heavy use. If the growth points are removed anytime during the growing season, no new leaves are produced by those stems that year. Leaf growth stops when a plant develops fertile seed stalks. Plant food reserves are usually at the lowest when plants start heading out, thus the necessary replenishing of reserve food must be done by old leaves which have ceased to grow. Removing 50 percent of the foliage at this time may not only stop plant growth for the season, but also hinder the plant's chances of replenishing its food supply before the growth season ends. Plant vigor will be lowered next year which leaves the range wide open to damage from insects, diseases, weather, drought and other factors.

We hope this helps you understand why proper use of rangeland "take half leave half" means profit by retaining plant vigor and range condition, and by increasing soil moisture intake and storage.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Why proper use of range-land? Why the slogan "take half and leave half"? Growth habits of grass prescribe its treatment and care. If this prescription is followed more profit is the reward and profit over loss is inevitably the WHY.

Plants must develop root systems big enough to occupy the entire soil profile if they are to draw the nutrients and moisture necessary for growth from the soil reservoir. Roots develop in the same proportion as leaf and stem growth - roots feed the tops and tops feed the roots. This continues until plant maturity. Most of the top growth in any one season is produced by roots grown the same year even though roots of perennials remain active for several years. This means that the intensity with which plants are grazed during the growing season can control plant root development and forage production and does so with moisture, nutrients and other factors being equal.

Research by F. J. Crider shows that if 90 percent of the foliage is removed from a plant during its rapid growth period, all of the roots stop growing for 17 days. A removal of 70 percent of the tops during the same period resulted in root growth stoppage of only 70 percent for five days and a 50 percent removal or less had little or no effect on root growth.
